WE ALL SHINE ON

"Well, we all shine on
Like the moon and the stars and the sun
Yeah, we all shine on
One of us just on and on..."
—John Lennon, Instant Karma

We often hear, in times of new beginnings and bright futures, to "reach for the stars" or "shoot for the moon."

Though these are superb aspirations, we must look past these galactic conquests and realize the greatness we search for is closer than we imagined.

The Class of 2007 is filled with stars already - athletic stars, theater stars, music stars, and maybe even a handful of superstars.

No matter what we excel in, we each hold within ourselves the highest potential. There is no doubt that the graduating class of 2007 will use this potential to continue shining on through the rest of their lives.

Class 2007

What was your
"brightest moment"
in your high school career?

DEDICATION

Mr. Richard Harty

Way back in 2002, many of us walked into room 226 during our first day of eighth grade to meet our new history teacher. No one could ever imagine that four years later, we would stroll into room 226 up at the high school and see the very same man. Encapsulated in these five years are memories that neither our class nor he will ever forget. We dedicate our yearbook to that man, Mr. Richard Harty.

Anyone who has had him can recall his great debates about the Constitution and his love for Native Americans. One question that continues to plague us is, "Should we name a high school after King Phillip?" He is also very dedicated to his job; during our sophomore year, he volunteered a weekend to take some of his most passionate students into Boston to see and take part in the Tea Party Reenactment.

Those of us who had Mr. Harty in eighth grade can remember the coveted spot on his wall set aside for the "Blue Team Historians." Many may also remember the talent show that took place during the team building day that year. He danced his way right on stage and eventually started to break dance. It may be a distant memory, but for those who were there, it will never be forgotten.

Mr. Harty is one of those rare teachers who could always tell when we needed a break from our everyday routine or when we were having a bad day. He was always student-centered. He gave us room in class to relax and be comfortable, and avoided a strict and rigid format. Someone passing by his class might think there was a study hall in the room when it was actually one of his classes "working at their own pace." Of course he had high expectations and he still made us earn the grade we received.

Over these past five years Mr. Harty has been more than a teacher; he has become our friend. When he learned of his dedication in this book, he joked "I don't have to die now, do I?" He has made the journey with us from middle school to high school and has taught all but 23 of 222 students in the class of 2007. In the spirit of the television show Boy Meets World, we can say that Mr. Harty is our Mr. Feeny.

Mike looks relaxed.

Rob demonstrates scuba gear for the class.

Rob and Briana are thrilled to be in school again.

Nick reads his favorite book.

John can't wait for class to start.

The guys get in a little reading before autoshop.

Mike and John pay close attention to the teacher.

Tom's looking forward to another year of school.

Leah and Kim really get into their books.

DAYS

Jessica and Amanda love biology.

The girls stop on their way to class.

Mike, Carli, and Phil hang out before class.

Ashley smiles for the camera before class starts.

The class patiently waits for the teacher to begin.

Matt, Bryan and Andrew cook up something good.

Faculty

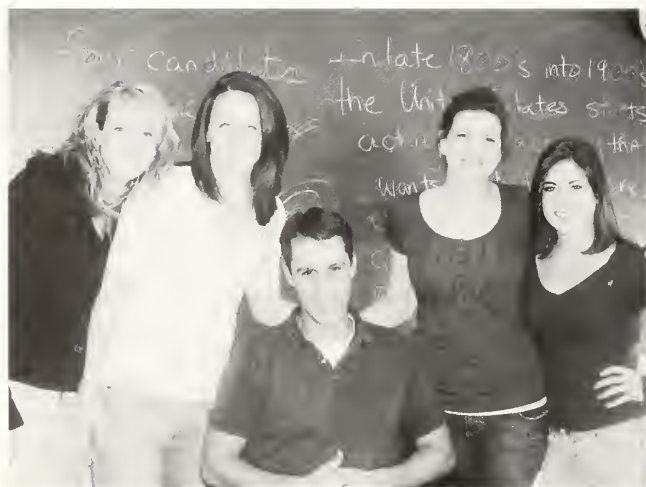

Stars are an extremely bright source of light -- light that travels through the galaxy illuminating thousands of different areas. Over the course of our high school career, many members of the Class of 2007 have encountered stars, yet instead Stoneham calls them the SHS faculty. Without the faculty here at Stoneham High, education would never be the same, and Carnival Ball class acts would have no one to base their jokes on. They teach us new ways of learning, make impressions on our everyday lives, and sometimes even find a place in our hearts. So here's to all the vibrant teachers who taught us, "we all shine on"...

Divya and Jon hang out with their favorite math teacher, Mrs. Naumes.

Erin, Rachel, and Marissa admire Mr. Riley's infamous plant Penelope.

Previous students or not, Mr. Bacigalupo is a fun teacher to visit.

Mr. Kennedy's math class provokes smiles from these girls.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Mrs. Miriam Regan-Fiore, Ms. Marie Christie, Mrs. Kristin Russo, Ms. Maureen Soley, Mrs. Cheryl Walsh

My favorite shiny object is my diamond ring. It has three diamonds which represent the past, present, and future years with my husband. # 1

The sun. When the sun is out that means it's going to be a good day. It brings light and life to earth. My mood is much better on sunny days than cloudy days. # 2

That's easy -- piano keys! I can play "Shine On Harvest Moon," !!! # 3

The ocean at sunrise off the coast of Kennebunk, Maine. It is both meditative and invigorating. It is a hopeful and enchanting awakening. # 4

The sun sparkling off the ocean -- preferably the Caribbean -- because it means I'm on vacation, relaxing, having a wonderful time in Paradise! # 5

My wedding ring because I treasure the memories of the proposal and our vows with each glimpse. # 6

A red Highlander; it's much better than a not very shiny green truck. # 7

Spinners. Because sometimes when you're going really fast, it looks like you're standing still. Oh, and vice versa. # 8

The shiny cover of a brand new book -- it brings the promise of a good read--transporting me to another time and place. # 9

Question to Faculty:

What is your favorite shiny object? Why?

My favorite shiny object is the refrigerator in the house I grew up in at Christmastime. We were not allowed to leave the dinner table until we finished, so I would spend many an hour just sitting in the kitchen staring at the reflection of the colored lights of the tree glowing in the doors of the fridge. Isn't that weird? # 10

The ocean reflecting the Florida sun in Pompano Beach. It is one of my favorite places to be. # 11

◆ Spoons! Reasons: 1. You can see your reflection 2 different ways. 2. You can eat almost any food with a spoon. 3. You can launch things with it. 4. You can make music with spoons. 5. You can balance one on your nose for endless entertainment. 6. You can dig yourself out of a prison cell if need be. 7. You can use it as a weapon for self defense. # 12

My favorite shiny object is the Sun. I love to sit on the beach or by my pool on a warm, sunny day and read and relax in the sunshine. # 13

I shine when I bake so my favorite shiny object is my 9x13 pan. In it I make Seven Layer Bars, Lemon Squares, Double Batch Brownies and other treats. In my next life I would like to be a pastry chef! # 18

A nice set of 24-inch chrome spinners!! There's nothing better than shiny rims. # 19

The shiny sparkle in my children's eyes on Christmas morning. Or, my 1963 shiny mid-night blue Corvette. Or, my 1931 Ford hot rod (black with purple and blue flames!) # 20

● The expression on a student's face after a significant accomplishment. #22

● A drop of water on a leaf when the sun hits it. #23

● Mercury! Beautiful, useful, and dangerous! # 24

● Diamonds -- because they are the most precious stone. # 25

● A trophy -- because what is better than being the best! # 14

● Any type of jewelry --preferably antique! # 15

● My dog's tag --because no matter what time of day it is --he's always happy to see me. # 16

My silver jewels especially my Tiffany ball bracelet. I love my sterling silver earrings and bracelets. I used to make jewelry in high school. # 17

My favorite shiny object is the trophy for winning the Middlesex League - Girls Spring Track 2006, The girls went 9-0 and there were many "Shiny Stars" who contributed to the Championship. # 21

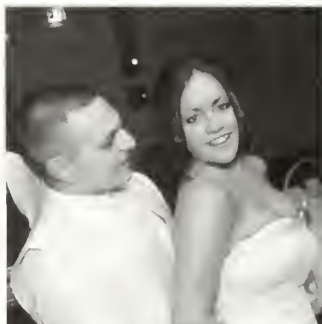

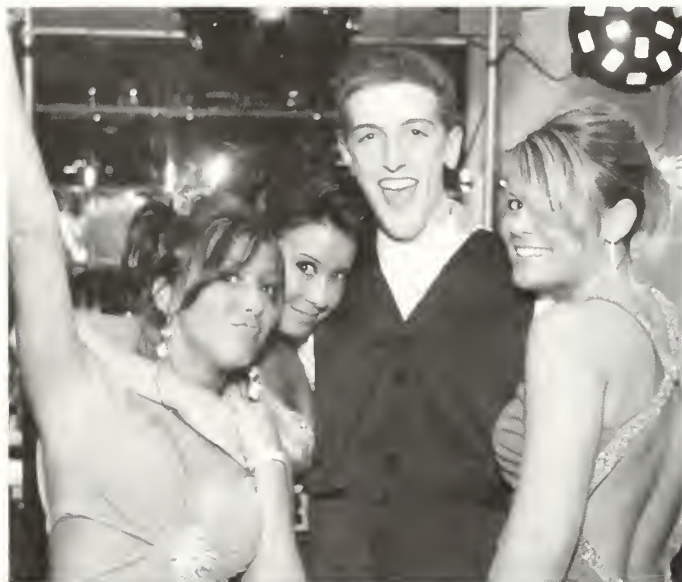

Can you match the teacher with his or her favorite shiny object?

ACTIVITIES

"We drew our own constellations."

-- Jack Johnson Constellations

What is your favorite memory from Into The Woods?

Ryan Bergstrom, Lighting Assistant

"It was my first show so it would have to be working back stage and at the board. It allowed me to see all the effort everyone has to put in to make a show work."

Usama Saadat, Assistant Director

"What particularly sticks out about the last few nights of Tech Week is the aura that was present while we were there. Everyone was just giving it their all, and you could feel it all coming together. We knew this was going to be our last chance of the year to make the show shine and spend some time together."

Natalie Salerno, Technical Director

"All of the work that went into the construction of Milky White just to see it go flying down the center ramp."

Danielle Sanford, The Giant

"I guess my favorite memory would involve yelling into Danny's mic as the Giant. The week after the play was MCAS and Danny needed a calculator. I gave him mine and he said, 'Thanks. It's the least you can do for screaming into my ears!'"

Max Grover, Lighting Design

"I had a great deal of fun making the light and sound of this show blend together seamlessly into a fusion of visual softness and musical delight."

Jack stumbles upon the Giant's eyeglasses.

Jack's Mother tells the giant how it is.

Poor Little Red:
First a wolf, and now a Giant?

The Mysterious Man
ponders his past

Cinderella's family appreciates her now that she's a princess.

The Princes are in agony over their hard-to-catch princesses.

Into The Woods

When the Drama Club decided to perform Into the Woods as their 2006 spring musical, they knew they would have to work hard to make this challenging play memorable. Under the direction of Ms. Danielle Catalano, Usama Saadat, and Andrew Barbato and with the help of Stage Manager Tina Blyde, this fairy tale blew everyone away. Mr. Robert Lague also guided this production, keeping the cast in tune with his stellar musical direction. Into the Woods tells the story of Cinderella (Alycia Sacco), guided by the ghost of her Mother (Laura Graczyk) trying to escape the torture of her evil Step-family (Mike Gill, Brianna Foley, Kim Warren, Jamie McCarthy), Jack (Andrew Barbato) and his Mother (Emily DiPietro) who deal with the Giants (Danielle Sanford) in the sky, and the Baker (Bryan Miner) and his wife (Kelly Landers) who desperately long for a child. Meanwhile, Cinderella's Prince (Danny Marchant) and Rapunzel's Prince (Sean Cunningham) are in agony searching for the perfect brides-to-be. But these are not the only characters that appear throughout the woods! Little Red Riding Hood (Katia De Stefano) learns many valuable things after encountering a cunning wolf (Mike Testa), and a Witch (Rocio Valles) believes that children will not listen after losing her only daughter, Rapunzel (Erica Gould). Other senior thespians to work the stage include Ron Bagnera, Allie Hyland, Kristin Kerrigan, Katelynn Conlon, and Caitlin Sheils.

This incredible production would not have been possible if it were not for the technical aspect as well. Under the direction of Natalie Salerno, Sam Furrier, and Meghan Carleton, the Drama Club's construction crew of 43 brought these fairy tales to life. They made us feel as though we were truly in the woods! Senior crewmembers Matt Angelosanto, Erica Gould, Usama Saadat, Kim Warren, Ryan Bergstrom, Tom Finn, and Caitlin Bryan worked diligently to perfect the versatile set for this show. Max Grover did an outstanding job designing the lights with the help of Ryan Bergstrom and Vicky Blyde, especially in the encounters with the Giant! Senior costume crewmembers Caitlin Sheils and Alex Ryder really managed to capture each character perfectly as well. All in all, Into the Woods was a hit and many people walked away with the knowledge that "children will listen", and, as the song says, that "No One is Alone."

After undoing the Witch's spell, the Baker and his Wife finally have a child.

The Seniors:
"sometimes people leave you halfway through the wood..."

The beautiful yet powerless witch stands in awe of the Giant.

What was your favorite memory of Homecoming?

Katelynn Conlon

"My favorite part of Homecoming was seeing all the school spirit through all the creative floats and everyone's involvement."

Bryan Anderson

"After I was announced as King, Ryan Cassidy and Danny O'Brien ran up on stage and started hugging me and screaming. It was exciting and I won't ever forget it. I was happy to go through this with Chelsey, the Queen."

Elise Pecci

"My favorite part of Homecoming was the bonfire because everyone came together as a whole school and showed their school spirit."

Rachel Cail

"My favorite part was the bonfire and watching Chelsey and B.A. being crowned King and Queen."

Chelsey Canavan

"I loved the parade, the bonfire, the crowning, and being able to enjoy it with all my family and friends. It was a night to remember and I'm glad I got to experience it with a good friend, the Homecoming King, Bryan Anderson."

Chris, Tom, Jeff, Anthony, and Mike get ready for the parade.

Leah, Marissa, Rachel and Emily represent the seniors.

The Juniors are having a good time on their float.

The Cheerleaders add some pep to the bonfire.

HOMECOMING

At Stoneham High School there is a special event that only comes around once every four years. This year was one of those special years, a Homecoming year. We were lucky enough to have this experience our senior year. The Homecoming festivities included a dance, a pep rally, a parade, a bonfire, and of course, a football game. This week-long event promoted both togetherness and school spirit. From selling spirit links to making floats, creativity was alive and well. As in past traditional Homecomings, the school voted on nominees for Homecoming King and Queen. For the Freshman Class the nominees were Alissa Kotowski and Kris Angelosanto. The Sophomores chose Makenzie Duffy and Nick Vecchiarello. The Juniors were represented by Melanie Barrineau and Andrew Murphy. The Seniors selected Chelsey Canavan and Bryan Anderson. When it came time to pick the king and queen of the entire school both of the seniors came out on top with Chelsey and Bryan taking the crowns.

Eric pounds on his drum.

Mr. Mulvihill waves to the crowds.

The soccer girls are ready to go.

Divya, Molly, and Katie stop playing music to take a picture.

Soccer team? Smurfs? You decide.

Ladies and Gentlemen, presenting the King and Queen of Homecoming: Bryan Anderson and Chelsey Canavan!

What is your favorite memory from Midsummer?

Colin O'Brien, Flute

"Putting on a dress and make-up for the first time."

Emily DiPietro, Helena

"Playing a role so similar to who I really am. Just kidding! Sort of."

Kelly Landers, Titania

"Doing physics homework on stage and being so tired that I thought about figuring out the angle needed for friction to overcome gravity so I would stop sliding down that ramp."

Matt Angelosanto, Oberon

"Getting home as fast as possible after every show so I could wash off all the body paint."

Katia DeStefano, Hermia

"All those late nights rehearsing."

Hermia and Lysander fight for their love as Egeus refuses to allow it.

Pyramus and Thisbe plan to meet at Ninny's tomb through the wall dividing them.

Ron puts on his serious face as he attends to Oberon.

A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM

Oberon and Titania pause from their usual feuding.

Helena attempts (yet again) to make Demetrius love her.

After causing some chaos, Puck reverses the lover's spell.

In the fall of 2006, the Drama Club decided to undertake William Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream. On December 1st and 2nd, this performance came to life as a comic masterpiece. Ms. Danielle Catalano and Mr. Jason Epps co-directed this production, each individually influencing the piece with their own ideas, and together creating a show of which the Club could be truly proud. Music Director Mr. Robert Lague, Technical Supervisor Mr. Paul Murphy, and Assistant Director Usama Saadat also contributed to the beauty and cohesiveness of Midsummer. Laura Graczyk, choreographer, enchanted the audience with the stunning dance of the fairies. Stage Managers Vicky Blyde and Ryan Bergstrom were crucial to the play as well, assisting the cast throughout the rehearsal process. A Midsummer Night's Dream follows the tale of four lovers, six actors, and the fairy world. The lovers, Hermia (Katia DeStefano), Lysander (Daniel Marchant), Helena (Emily DiPietro) and Demetrius (Ali Kadoura) all steal away into the wood and confusion reigns. In the wood, Oberon (Matt Angelosanto), King of the Fairies, and Puck (Andrew Barbato), together use a magic potion to make Demetrius love Helena, and Titania (Kelly Landers), Queen of the Fairies, love - well, whatever beast she first lays her eyes on. However, much of the plan goes askew. All the while the players are rehearsing Pyramus and Thisbe, to be performed at the wedding of Duke Theseus (Michael Wilson-Pierce) and Hippolyta (Sarah Arrington). Quince (Kacey Conlon), Snug (Theo Yeomelakis), Snout (Julie Albani), Starveling (Matt Crawford), Flute (Colin O'Brien) and Bottom (Ryan Marchant) provided a hilarious counterpart to the confusing lovers and magical fairyland. The fairies and attendants to Oberon and Titania (Deirdre Burke, Nikki Roberto, Caitlin Bryan, Brittney Cormier, Alicia Silvestri, Annalisa Giglio, Nicole Willard, Laura Graczyk, Jamie McCarthy, Kim Warren, Ron Bagnera, Kyle Arrington) provided a mystical feeling throughout the play, especially with the unforgettable lullaby and dance. Attendants to Theseus and Hippolyta include Kristin Kerrigan, Allie Hyland, Billy Jenkins, and Anthony Bolton. A major contributor to the dreamlike feel of Midsummer was the set. Technical Directors Stephen Bradley and Ryan Alfonso, as well as Technical Assistant Directors Matt Angelosanto and Sam Furrier, created a set that captured both the royal palace and the enchanted wood. Senior crewmembers include Katia DeStefano and Ryan Bergstrom. Props (Natalie Salerno, Ashlyn Sacco, Kasey Conlon), costumes (William Moriarty, Alex Ryder, Alison Kelly, Caitlin Sheils, Lillie Harvey) and Hair and Make Up (Kim Warren, Vicky Blyde, Caitlin Bryan, Deirdre Burke, Katia DeStefano, Alison Kelly, Nikki Roberto, Natalie Salerno) significantly impacted the beauty of the performance as well. Max Grover (Lighting Design) wowed the audience with impressive lighting effects, especially during magical moments. Overall, A Midsummer Night's Dream was a great success!

What's your favorite memory from the Winter Concert?

Robert MacDonald

"This year's Winter Concert was definitely one of our best. Even Mr. Grammer and Mr. Lague were impressed. I'm glad our class is going out on a high note!"

Alexandra Ryder

"The moment the Chorale began to sing Sleigh Ride, all you could hear was a baby bursting into tears in the back of the auditorium. It had to be the funniest moment of the night."

Erica Gould

"My favorite memory from the 2006 Winter Concert was singing my first solo at a choral performance. Ever since fifth grade, I've always wanted to, and my senior year I finally did it. I also enjoyed my little duet with Emily at the end of the Les Miserables medley."

Kathleen McNamara

"I remember right before the curtain opened. We weren't in our seats yet. Jimmy made a mad dash from his seat to the percussion section, knocking over a cymbal in the process. No one could keep a straight face as Mr. Grammer walked onstage."

Divya Kanneganti

"Kelly and I have been bass section buddies since Middle School. It was sad to think that this was one of our last concerts together."

Divya, Kelly, and Anthony wail away in the horn section.

The Jazz Band provides the coolest tunes of the night.

The Chamber Chorus sings with poise and grace.

The altos harmonize beautifully during each of the Chorale's pieces.

Sing on, Spartan Chorale!

WINTER CONCERT

Ah, the annual Winter Concert. A chance for the Concert Band, Spartan Chorale, Chamber Chorus, and Jazz Ensemble to perform and show off for each other. Our small but mighty music department spent months preparing pieces for this evening and they certainly did not disappoint.

On Thursday, December 15th, the concert opened with the Chamber Chorus performing a few lovely pieces accompanied by Mr. Robert Lague - Let It Snow! Let It Snow! Let It Snow!, Balulalow, Wintersong, and Goin' to Boston featuring Mr. Grammer on the flute. This was followed by always tight and entertaining musical group, the Jazz Ensemble. Their wide variety of musical selections ranged from rock to swing to jazz. Selections Pick Up the Pieces, Blue Train, Europa (with solo by senior Anthony Preziosi on tenor sax), Surf Medley, and The Trooper were all handled well by these talented musicians.

After a brief intermission, the Chorale opened with a medley from Les Miserables, featuring solos by Michael and Mary Rora, Ali Kadoura and seniors Erica Gould and Emily DiPietro. Followed by The Turtle Dove, An American Trilogy, and then favorites It Don't Mean a Thing If You Ain't Got That Swing and the festive Sleigh Ride, they too showed their versatility and musicianship. Finally, the band ended the night with Guadalcanal March, Nessun Dorma, Berceuse and Finale from The Firebird, The Normandy Carol, and A Russian Festival (...for the fourth year in a row!).

All in all, the Winter Concert was a wonderful night fully showing off the talents of all the hard working members of the music department.

Erica and Emily perform a duet in the Les Mis medley.

Jimmy and Amalia play their flutes with pride.

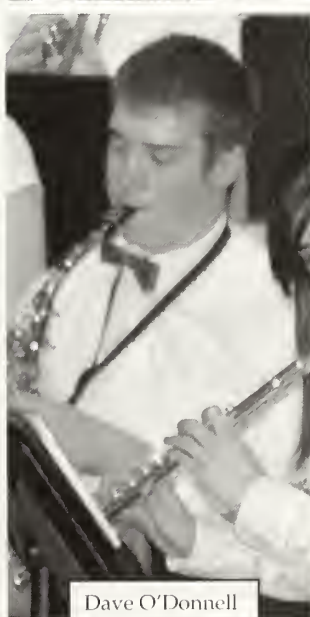

Katie, Deepti and Alicia support the band in the front row.

Danny and Erin on the trumpets.

What's your favorite way to study?

Christina Jean-Bart, Senior

"A lil' kompa, a lil' reggae blasting in the stereo is what sets off my brain for an exciting studying session."

Katelynn Conlon, Senior

"Repetition is key!
Write it, say it, write it.
Do it till it sticks."

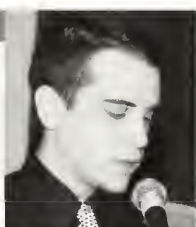

Bryan Danilchuk, Senior

"My favorite way to study is in front of my computer with music blasting while watching the Bruins on TV. I need noise to help me concentrate; peace and quiet does not work for me."

Jonathan Berkman, Senior

"Each day is the same... I study on the living room sofa in front of a large picture window so I have distractions and comfort for the many long hours."

Daniel Brenton, Junior

"When I'm watching TV, I glance over at my notes during the commercials."

The National Honor Society Officers:

NHS Induction

Jonathan speaks to the new inductees about leadership.

Leah discusses the importance of scholarship.

Divya lights the candle for character.

Each and every year, a faculty committee selects a group of students who have accomplished far beyond the expected. Their recognition indicates that they have not only achieved a grade point average above the necessary 4.0, but also exhibited a common drive for excellence in the areas of leadership, scholarship, character, and service. A total of 28 new members were inducted into the National Honor Society at Stoneham High School during the ceremony that took place on Monday, February 5th. Officers Jonathan Berkman, Leah Turino, Divya Kanneganti, and Katelynn Conlon delivered speeches on the four core requirements of the NHS Constitution. Mrs. Heidi Naumes, the honorary speaker, then presented an inspirational and moving speech, asking for the inductees to continue to strive towards even loftier goals. Directed by Mr. Robert Lague, the Spartan Chorale captivated the audience with its rendition of An American Trilogy. Mr. Denis Mulvihill was then recognized as the Honorary Member and awarded a much-deserved plaque for his constant encouragement of high school students. The new members completed the celebration and confirmed their induction with their participation in a candlelight ceremony and recital of the National Honor Society Pledge. The evening was made possible by the efforts of Mrs. Cargill and Ms. Sherwood, the NHS advisors. With the induction of 25 juniors and 3 seniors, 67 members currently represent Stoneham High School's chapter of National Honor Society.

What was your favorite memory from DramaFest?

Andrew Barbato Birdboot

"My favorite memory was having tons of kids from all different schools come up to me and ask me to say 'Have a chocolate.' It made me feel like they really enjoyed our performance and that was so exciting!!!"

Mat Crawford The Body

"To me acting is a hobby, not something I take too seriously. But at Fest when I watched each performance, I noticed the dedication and passion that went into each play. I realized that to some people this wasn't just a hobby or a game they had to win, it was their life and I respect them for it."

Caitlin Bryan Costumes Crew

"Andrew's infamous line: 'Have a chocolate..'"

Kim Warren Felicity

"Working until 11 o'clock at night is easy when there are so many amazing people in the show."

Danny Marchant Inspector Hound

"Learning British accents by listening to a tape which used sentences like, 'At quarter to four, the awkward gypsy told his fortune' to help us practice. It didn't help that the British accents on the tape were awful either."

FELICITY. Strange how Simon appeared in the neighbourhood from nowhere. We know so little about him.
SIMON. It doesn't always pay to show your hand!
CYNTHIA. Right! Simon, it's your opening on the minor bid.

The Seniors!

THE BODY. "..."

SIMON. He's dead! Do you understand me - Albert's dead!
CYNTHIA. No - I'll never give up hope!
Let me go! We are not free!

FELICITY: ...I...
HOUND. Don't interrupt!
FELICITY. Inspector...
HOUND. Very well.

MRS. DRUDGE. Hello,
the drawing-room of Lady
Muldoon's country residence one morning in early spring?

MAGNUS. I have waited a long time for this moment.

The Drama Club was very successful, moving onto the semi-final round at the Massachusetts High School Drama Festival. As a change from the typical period pieces, this year the club took on the challenge of performing Tom Stoppard's contemporary comedy The Real Inspector Hound. Given this challenge, the club's expectations were again raised, producing a witty and hilarious show. Under the dedicated directors Ms. Catalano and Mr. Epps, senior assistant director Usama Saadat, and stage managers Vicky Blyde and senior Ryan Bergstrom, the show was a great success. Along with an award winning set design, done by seniors Usama Saadat and Matt Angelosanto, and a committed crew, this year's Fest show had a cast of ten collectively humorous members. Critics Moon and Birdboot, portrayed by none other than the amazingly talented senior Kelly Landers and Andrew Barbato respectively, judged a show within a show, revealing a surprise ending to the rest of the cast. Expressive senior Emily DiPietro took on the role of Mrs. Drudge, an older and overly observant woman who stops by Muldoon Manor to lend a helping hand "when the weather allows." She meets the mysterious Simon Gascoyne, portrayed by the fabulous Matt Angelosanto, who turns up in the area, and she convinces him to stay for a game of bridge. Caught off guard by the young and naive Felicity Cunningham, played by the wonderful Kim Warren, they have an awkward encounter in the Manor where words are exchanged and threats are made. The lady of the house, upper class socialite Cynthia Muldoon, portrayed by the comedic Katia DeStefano, then encounters Simon and their affair is revealed. Completing the house party, Major Magnus, played by rookie Ryan Marchant, tries to win Cynthia over but instead is interrupted by the sudden visit of the quirky Inspector Hound portrayed by the ever so funny Danny Marchant. The Inspector reveals with the help of the Radio Announcer, played by the experienced Alicia Silvestri, that there is a murderer in their midst and proves himself correct by discovering The Body, realistically played by Mat Crawford. Led by tech directors Ryan Alfonso and Matt Angelosanto, along with senior crew member Sam Furrier, the crew never worried about running overtime. Props supervisors Ashlyn Sacco and senior Natalie Salerno, also captured the show's essence by adding all the final touches to the set and for the actors. The time era was successfully achieved through costumes, special mention going to seniors Alex Ryder, Caitlin Bryan, and Caty Sheils. Furthermore, hair and makeup supervisor Kim Warren achieved the look of the time with the help of seniors Jamie McCarthy, Katia DeStefano, and Natalie Salerno. Last, but certainly not least, senior Max Grover outdid himself as the lighting designer and board operator for this show adding to the "who dunnit" atmosphere of this Agatha Christie spoof. Through the rounds, many members were recognized with awards. At the preliminary round, Matt, Andrew, Katia, and Danny won All-Star Acting Awards while Usama and Matt bounded up the stairs to receive the Set Design Award. Andrew, Emily, and Danny also won All-Star Acting Awards at the semi-final round of DramaFest. Congrats to the cast and crew!

What was your favorite memory of Carnival Ball?

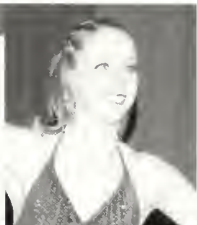

Jeff Lyons

"My favorite memory of Carnival Ball was learning the waltz with all the court."

Reanna Crispin

"My favorite part of Carnival Ball was dancing on stage with Rachel Cail. Also, when I would turn to face the back and see the wonderful court supporting us with their smiles."

Pat Cassidy

"My favorite memory was interacting with new people in my class. These are memories I will keep forever."

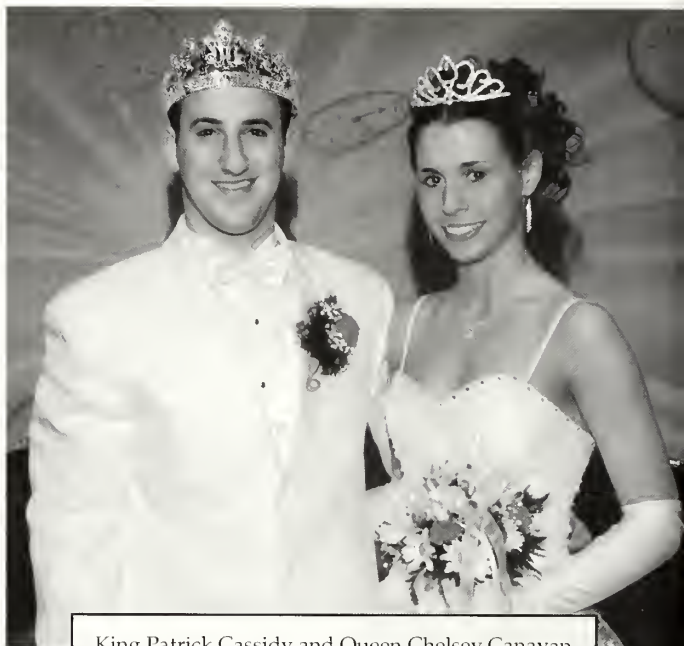

Elaina Zizza

"My favorite memory about Carnival Ball was our senior class act. Everyday something changed; we never knew what to expect, especially what Shyam would be wearing."

Kayla McEachern

"My favorite memory of Carnival Ball was the whole four week period of messing up and laughing with the court while learning the waltz."

CARNIVAL BALL

Rachel wows the crowd.

Elaina belts it out.

Reanna feels the beat.

This year's Carnival Ball started out in its traditional form by introducing King Patrick Cassidy and Queen Chelsey Canavan along with their Royal Court: Rachel Cail, Katelynn Conlon, Katia DeStefano, Meghan Flynn, Jamie McCarthy, Kayla McEachern, Meaghan O'Halloran, Natalie Salerno, Marissa Tuccelli, Leah Turino, Bryan Anderson, Jonathan Berkman, Damon Byrne, Ryan Cassidy, Matthew Coccoluto, Bryan Danilchuk, Vincenzo Greco, Jeffrey Lyons, Stephen Mondello, and Alexander Webb.

The theme of Generations was brought to life under the direction of Jenna Tortorici and Meaghan O'Halloran and producer Mr. Carino. Mistress of Ceremonies Kelly Landers, along with cast members Emily DiPietro and Colin O'Brien, took center stage for a time warp of hilarious proportions. The first decade visited was the Eighties led off with a medley, Eighties Flashback, performed by the SHS Band under the direction of Mr. Grammer. The amusing Freshman Class Act was followed by a memorable dance solo by senior Reanna Crispin to Turn The Beat Around. The Jazz Ensemble played a well-received Rockin' the 80s set with added vocalists, Eric Melkonian and Tony DiBiase. The next featured generation was the Thirties with the cleverly choreographed Sophomore Class Act and senior Elaina Zizza singing the classic You Made Me Love You. In this time period the audience also enjoyed swinging performances by the Chamber Chorus and the Spartan Chorale with Mr. "Cool Breeze" Lague.

After intermission the audience was transported into the 70's with the Junior Class Act featuring a throw-down between John Travolta and Elton John. Senior dancers Rachel Cail and Reanna Crispin strutted their stuff to Boogie Nights and senior Emily DiPietro sang the Barbra Streisand hit, Evergreen. Finally, the Fifties were visited with the Senior Class Act where the T-Birds and Pink Ladies faced off and Meghan Cunningham sang Will You Still Love Me Tomorrow. The evening was wrapped up with a performance of The Fray's Over My Head by Emily DiPietro and Kelly Landers accompanied by Matt Angelosanto on drums, Kim Warren on piano, Tim Landers on guitar and Ryan Alfonso on bass. With exceptional lighting provided by Max Grover and Ryan Bergstrom and toe-tapping music engineered by DJ Buono and Ashlyn Sacco, the audience agreed that this year's Carnival Ball was one of the best in recent memory.

CAPTAINS' WORDS

Yet another season has come to an end. For ten of us, it was the last of our high school career. Even though we didn't get the win we so deserved, our team has made so much more of a difference together. We've taken big steps forward towards winning for the future team. We accomplished great things, no matter what our record showed. We scored goals, worked together, and, most importantly, played to the very best of our abilities.

To people outside our circle of teammates and fans, our progress may not have seemed like much, but we all knew that we were working hard, and trying even harder. From pasta parties to running the "two mile loop" practically every other day, we were friends and teammates throughout the season. And although we've had our fair share of disappointments and close calls, we've come through strong and that's what will show through in the upcoming years.

CAPTAINS WORDS

The Stoneham High School golf team took the course with confidence this year knowing that almost all of the team had returned from last year, and with that fact in mind they were determined to put that experience to good use and have a great season. After another whole year of practice, the team came out full of energy and hope for the fall season. The lineup was lead by upperclassmen Matt Brown (junior), Danny Killilea (senior), Krista Doherty (senior), and Scott Rago (senior) holding the top four spots. The five through twelve spots changed between Joe Conte (senior), Eric Kenny (senior), Jeremy Cefalo (junior), Ryan Shirkoff (sophomore), Kyle Migliorini (sophomore), Ben Hertz (sophomore), Evan Yandle (sophomore), and Ryan Cail (sophomore). The team started out strong winning its first two non-league matches then stumbled a bit losing the next two against Lexington and Medford. Luckily for the team, the Spartans came back the very next day to win an impressive match against rivals Reading by one point. The rest of the season went back and forth until it finally came down to the last match of the year against Belmont, where the Spartans pulled off an impressive victory to guarantee their spot in the State Sectional Qualifier, finishing the year with a 7-7 record. Unfortunately, the team was unable to qualify for the state championship. Good luck to everyone and thank you to all the people who made the last year so great.

Volleyball

CAPTAINS' WORDS

This year for Volleyball our seniors were co-captains Meghan Flynn, Kim Warren, and Leah Hoyland, along with Christina Jean-Bart and Elise Pecci. All these veteran players contributed immensely to the team. We started off strong with multiple wins but, along the way, met with some fierce competition and kept our record tight. The season was clearly "do or die"; in other words, truly a season to remember. Whether running the loop or dropping down and giving 20 and 20, we stuck together throughout it all. Everyone played hard and made sure to give it everything they had. Finishing strong with a record of 9-11, we leave this sport feeling accomplished. To all the returning players next year, we wish you the best of luck. Paint the town!

Girls Cross Country

CAPTAINS' WORDS

It was a growing year for the girls cross country team, although many girls surpassed their expectations. The cross country team consisted of three freshmen: Allie Lauria, Audrey Genest, and Lauren Kennedy; one sophomore: Ali Simeone; three juniors: Jill Ragucci, Dianne Cerulli, and Meg Saltzman, and two seniors: Julie Nocella and Katie Galindo. We ended up with a 2-7 record; however, we beat two teams in the league meet whom we did not beat during the season. Also, Ali came in 5th at the league meet. Although we may have not been a great team in our highly competitive league, the girls came in 17th in the Class C meet even while missing their third runner. As personal times fell over the season, Allie Lauria, Audrey Genest, and Lauren Kennedy all came in the top fifty of the Catholic Memorial Invitational Freshman Race. Ali Simeone won the Catholic Memorial Race and was followed by teammates Julie

Captain Julie Nocella and Coach Norton

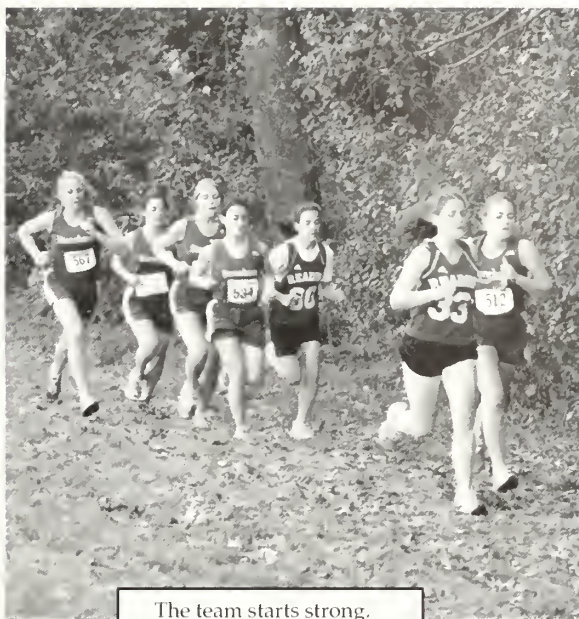

Nocella and Katie Galindo in the top fifty. Ali came in 4th at the Eastern Mass State Coaches meet in Wrentham and her teammates all had good races also. Ali Simeone qualified for the All-State Meet, running a time of 19:41 at the Class C Meet, which was good for 7th place. She competed in the All State meet at the very strenuous course in Northfield and came in 24th with a time of 20:31. The team may not all follow in the Ali's path, but everyone worked incredibly hard and improved their times all season to make up a very close and dedicated team.

CAPTAINS' WORDS

For years, we've endured rain, snow, hail, tropical storms, low recruitment numbers, injuries, and, from time to time, the knowledge that, due to inclement weather, we were the only team still practicing outdoors. During races, every muscle in our bodies would cry out begging for freedom from physical agony. It was often sheer willpower that kept us going-- yet we're all going to miss it. This year, although we only had a team of about ten harriers, we had a successful season. Our final record of 6-3 does not show our full potential as a team due to the fact that not all of us always ran our best. This lack of depth proved to be our downfall as important meets slipped from our grasp. The season started 1-2 with losses to the perennial powerhouse, Lexington, and the league champions, Woburn. We lost to the undefeated Tanners by only one point, unable to emerge victorious due to the fact that our number five runner quit earlier in the season.

The loss was devastating but we continued to work hard as a team, winning our next five meets before losing our season finale to Reading. Comprising nearly half of the team, seniors played a key role in our team's success this season. James Morgan, Rob MacDonald, Rob Stockbridge, Adam Vigneau, and Alex Webb worked extremely hard during this season to improve. James Morgan, Rob Stockbridge, and the lone junior, Scott Fixman, each won races throughout the year. Meet after meet, Rob MacDonald, Adam Vigneau, and Alex Webb all proved themselves and rose to the occasion when called upon. Just about everyone on the team cut seconds, even minutes off their best times throughout the season. Four-year veterans included Alex Webb, Adam Vigneau, Rob Stockbridge, and Rob MacDonald. This season was definitely one to remember, and we will all truly miss this great sport.

Cheering for Stoneham High School has always been an exciting time. This season was one of our best. We had an amazing team and spectacular girls. We all worked very hard and had a lot of fun along the way. We had to overcome some difficulties but came together in the end. Our seniors Alyssa White, Stephanie Walsh, Reanna Crispin, Regan Walsh and Elaina Zizza all showed leadership and set a wonderful example for our underclassmen. They all made a divine impact on our team and it was a pleasure to have the additions. As a team we all laughed and cried together. Our motto was: There is no "I" in Team. We all put our thoughts and feelings together and compromised to find the best solution.

Captain Alyssa White and Captain Stephanie Walsh.

Cheering for football and soccer has been a blast. Football had their best year in a very long time and soccer made it a long way. We wish them the best in the years to come. Good luck to all of SHS and good luck Class of 2007!

Boys Soccer

CAPTAINS WORDS

Since freshman year of 2003, participating in the boys soccer program has been some of the best times of our lives. All of us seniors now have memories that we will never forget as well as friendships that we will never lose. Our 2006 soccer season was filled with many different emotions, from heartache to triumph. Although our soccer careers together did not end the way we wanted them to, we should not think about the hardships we had, but instead reflect on all of the glorious memories. The seniors include Captains Derek Bambery and Matthew Pappa, along with Danny Angelosanto, Matthew Coccoluto, Michael DeVirgilio, Vincenzo Greco, Jeff Lyons, Michael Mansfield, Robbie Pacini, and Keith Yoshizumi.

We had a great season and surprised many people's expectations by having the awesome season we did. We achieved such records as making the North finals for the sixth season in a row and having the 13+ win season for the eighth season in a row, and, for some of us, two State Championships. There were plenty of games that we tend to remember for certain moments, like Vinnie's game-winning goal against Lexington and the Burlington game when Amon got hit just like he did in every practice. We also had the best coaching staff a team could imagine: Sir James Carino, Coach Mike Zampell and Coach Chris Serino (who is famous for his wild stories). The team would also like to thank the parents, fans, and faculty for supporting us throughout our high school careers. We seniors will always remember each other and our memories can never be forgotten because we have had so much fun together.

Girls Soccer

CAPTAINS WORDS

Our season was nothing short of spectacular. We ended up with an overall record of 11-6-3, leaving us fourth in the highly competitive Middlesex League. We beat undefeated Belmont 2-0 and scored with two minutes left to beat Woburn 1-0. We not only defeated Reading twice, but also kept them scoreless in both contests. We ended the season with our heads held high, setting the record for the most wins by a girls soccer team in Stoneham High School history.

Our confidence continued into our tournament play. We earned another victory, defeating Swampscott 3-0, in our last home game. In our second playoff game, we played our hearts out, but came up short, losing 2-1 in overtime. Yet, we played as we always played: we worked hard, played with skill, and beat the opponents to every ball. Looking back on our season, there is nothing more that could have been asked of our teammates.

The sixteen seniors on our team have been playing together for as long as we can remember. From making the MTOC in seventh grade, to our tournament berth in our final season, we have had memories that will last us a lifetime. In years to come, we will laugh at the night when we went out to eat in Boston, only to find out that the train had derailed with one hour until curfew.

Ms. Chapman has served as a role model for us since the day we walked onto the field as freshmen. We can never forget our parents' constant encouragement that inspired us to reach our goals. We will never forget how supportive the boys team and Mr. Carino were and how they celebrated our success with a dinner in our honor.

Most importantly, we will never forget our teammates. It is hard to imagine that we will not be playing together again. We wish you girls the best of luck no matter in what direction your life takes you.

CAPTAINS WORDS

Last year, a big win over Reading on Thanksgiving was a turning point for Stoneham Football. We entered the season with high hopes and expectations. In the end, we left the field with one of the finest seasons in recent memory. Our record was seven wins and four losses. The wins were exhilarating, and the losses were heartbreaking. Nevertheless, all of these games left us with some unforgettable memories.

No one will forget Westwood. It felt like we were playing a college game. Their stadium was packing with yelling, screaming fans, jumping up and down. We silenced the thousands when we dominated the game.

And who could forget our first home game against Belmont. It was a hard fought battle with scoring going back and forth the entire game. With only minutes remaining, Mark Bruno's miracle run crushed the Marauders.

Flying high with a three and zero record, we went to Burlington to challenge Woburn, the reigning champs of the Middlesex League. It was the premier game to watch in the state. The atmosphere was electric. The band was blaring, and the stands were packed. Our fans were painted blue, showing off their Spartan spirit. We gave the Tanners all they could handle, but still we came up a touchdown short.

After another tough loss to Wakefield, we began to hear whispers that we were over-rated. We silenced our critics by winning our last six games. These included big wins over Winchester, Watertown, Lexington, and Melrose.

This season was certainly one for the record books. We finished with seven wins, which tied the records for wins in a season for Stoneham. Mark and Jeff Bruno also shattered many of their own records, including yards in a season as well as touchdowns scored.

Football is the ultimate team sport. Our team worked as a whole and a unit. Each player on our team was essential. Each part of the machine, each piece of the puzzle fit together perfectly. We are a wolf pack. We are not defined by a single player; we are defined as a team.

We will always remember the burning of the boot, where we watched the remainder of our high school football careers flicker away. But as the flame died out the seniors remained together. We embraced under the goal posts, recollecting all the memories we have shared together. And although we will never play another High School football game together, the memories we have together will burn forever.

The Stoneham swim girls had an amazing first winning season! Ending with a 6-5 record, the girls could not have asked for more. The season kicked off in an awesome manner with a landslide win over Woburn, followed by another win over Cambridge Rindge and Latin. Stoneham lost only by a six-point difference to Belmont, the past year's Middlesex League's champions. This was a huge leap for the swim program to lose by such a small margin. Next came victories over Wakefield, Burlington, and Lowell. Our biggest win of the season was over Melrose, our "rivals" for the past three years. The seniors were pumped to finally beat Melrose after three years of close-but-not-quite-there meets against them. Our biggest letdown was losing against Lexington by one point. But all was set right at the League Meet, where we finished fourth overall and beat Lexington. The swim team as a whole is a tight bunch of girls who are known by the coaches to laugh and goof and enjoy swimming. The seniors are the first to graduate with swimming offered as a fall sport for all four years. So, wishing everyone luck next year, thanks for four awesome years of swimming.

Although our record was only 5-4, a lot of hardwork and sweat was put into the season. We faced some tough teams and even though we didn't always come out on top, we kept at it. We also had some injuries and lost some key runners, Rob Stockbridge, Steve Mondello, Adam Rocca, and Mark Bruno. Our season record might have been different if we were at 100%, but you take what life throws at you. At the state level we scored points where we could and tried our best to win. The season was long and grueling, but our hard work paid off when four school records were broken: the 45-meter dash, the 55-meter dash, the 4x200-meter relay, and the 4x50-meter relay. Hopefully, a lot of guys will move onto and compete at the college level and we wish them the best of luck. Good season guys.

Girls Track

CAPTAINS WORDS

The girls track team has begun a legacy at Stoneham High School. After an impressive spring season, the indoor team was faced with the challenge to live up to its reputation in not only the league but also the state. And we did just that. Leading the team to its remarkable 8-1 record in a tough Middlesex League were the nine seniors: Chelsey Canavan, Lauren Carrozza, Meghan Flynn, Katie Galindo, Lindsey Kennedy, Kayla McEachern, Emily Nardone, Julie Nocella, and Elaina Zizza. Every person's contribution was vital to the success that we achieved, being a team of only thirty girls. Continuously throughout the season goals were set, personal bests were broken, Stoneham High School records were broken, and meet and league records were broken.

Beyond Middlesex competitions, Stoneham girls track showed Class C what we were made of by winning not only the State Relays, but also the Class C State meet. At the Class meet, only nine members competed and we were still able to win the whole thing. At the All-State meet, junior Christina Izzicupo won the 300 meters with a time that is the fastest in the United States. Sophomore Ali Simeone placed sixth in the 2 mile, qualifying her to compete in the New England meet, where she placed eighth. The 4x400 relay team of Lindsey Kennedy, Emily Nardone, Chelsey

Canavan, and Christina Izzicupo respected their 2006 performance by again coming in first place at the All-State meet. None of this could have been possible without our amazing coaching staff of Mrs. DiLisio and Laura LaFranchesca led by Mr. Norton. For the nine seniors, this was the perfect ending to our last indoor season and we will never forget it. As we graduate, we leave behind an unbelievable amount of talent and potential and we wish the future teams the best of luck. And ... always remember: I Will Survive.

Gymnastics

CAPTAINS WORDS

This season's gymnastics team was the largest high school team most of us had seen. Twenty-one individuals tried out on November 26, 2006 and by February 10, 2007 we had become a team of great individuals. This season we held a record of five wins, two losses, and placed second out of seven teams in the league.

Besides having a very large team, we all worked together to achieve greatness. Our seniors and captains were Reanna Crispin, Rachel Mondello, and Alyssa White. Reanna made great strides this season, including her double turn on beam, which was known for being the only one in our league. She also helped out greatly on floor which we desperately needed for our League Competition. Rachel battled through some injuries but was always there to compete. Her exceptional performance on bars, but mainly floor and vault, came easily to her. Alyssa also improved on beam and floor, learning new skills her senior year. We had an amazing group of girls and one boy.

Our juniors made an amazing impact including Taylor See who placed third at individuals for the state of Massachusetts. Our two sophomores and eleven freshmen left their mark on the 2007 team. Many stepped up in our time of need and never let us down.

Our coach, AnneMarie McNeil, will be missed by us seniors. She was an amazing teacher and always was there to lend a helping hand. Overall, this season was a great one to leave by. This is definitely a strong group of individuals and we wish them the best of luck in the years to come.

Boys Basketball

CAPTAINS WORDS

Coming into the 2006-2007 season, the boys basketball team had high expectations. Unfortunately, we suffered through a number of heart-wrenching losses. Who can forget the hard fought battles against Winchester and Reading, where we were stunned on the final shots of each game. But, there were some high points in our season. They consisted of our two close victories over Melrose, our revenge against Winchester, and our toe-to-toe battle against the Middlesex League Champion, Lexington. We were a senior laden team led by tri-captains Chris Daniels, Derek Bambery, and Colin O'Brien. Colin and Derek were selected Middlesex

League All-Stars. Other seniors included Tom MacDonald, Matt Shea, Shyam Subramanian, Mike Wall, and Kevin Francey. Having eight seniors on the team helped us play together as one unit. Most of us have been playing together since elementary school. It has been a great four years and we will all miss playing Stoneham High School basketball.

Girls Basketball

CAPTAINS WORDS

No one thought that the Stoneham High School girls basketball team would have been 6-1 seven games into the beginning of our season. Yet, somehow we managed to overtake such powers as Wakefield and Malden consecutively, bringing our spirits high for a post-season tournament berth. Through hardships and many unexpected downfalls over the course of the next 10 games however, our record ended up portraying a less than talented team. We knew that this was not true, and even though it was hard to be positive in such negative times, our team shone through the dark. We recorded two unbelievable games versus Lexington and Melrose, and ended up making the tournament with a 9-11 record. Though the tournament game was hard fought, and ended up in a loss, we feel everyone knew that it was still an ending to a remarkable season. With so many high points it is hard to key onto just a few, but overall you could not have three captains more proud of your accomplishments this season. You all excelled to levels we could not have even imagined. With such tough obstacles like fouling out, getting screamed at, or merely playing with a 101 temperature, you girls overcame it all! For that we thank you, and wish you the best of luck with all your years to come, hopefully one day bringing home a Division 3 championship. Through it all we learned how to play for each other, and no matter what we will always love the team. Remember "In your eye," and don't forget about Sophie and James. Seniors, we love you, and we'll savor all the memories.

CAPTAINS WORDS

Despite our late start to the winter cheerleading season, we definitely accomplished a lot in a very short amount of time. As a group of individuals and as a team, we were very young. The team this year was composed of sixteen sophomores, five freshman, two juniors, and one senior. Under the direction of a new coach, Connie Mojica, we were ready to accomplish all of the goals we had set before us. With one of the best teams we've ever had, we put a lot of time and effort into creating a very advanced routine for the Middlesex League Competition. From walking it out, to being chased by the basketball team with toilet paper, we all grew as a family of opinionated individuals but, ironically, we always came together for one another, through thick and thin. Enduring long practices at the high school and at Bravo, we worked hard to prove ourselves at the Middlesex League Competition. Although there were only four teams competing this year, we came out stronger than ever, and qualified to move on. The best moment of that day was the support from the basketball team; when we came out on the floor, the whole team was standing and cheering for us. We will miss cheering for such a great group of boys. This year's team was a fun, hard-working group of girls. Good luck in the years to come. Peace out, ladies!

Boys Hockey

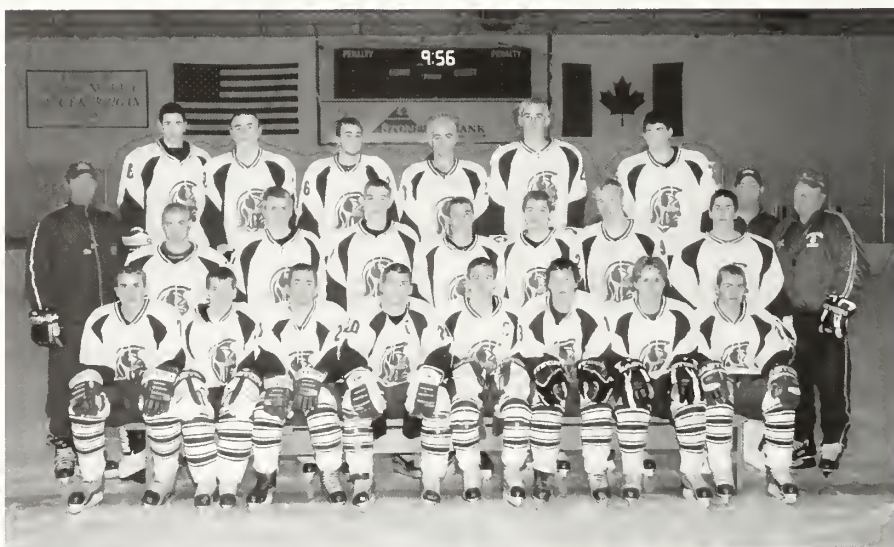

CAPTAINS WORDS

Our team this year showed a lot of heart. We had a very disappointing first half, tallying only one non-league win. In time, our team seemed to get stronger showing strength and determination; showing we had what it takes to be a tournament team. Our final record was 7-11-2. Shout-outs to the seniors who showed up huge this year. Chris Maganzini, Bryan Danilchuk and Joey Carabello were three huge contributors who helped us the whole way. We got mad love for seniors Andrew Faughnan, Jack Sullivan and Mike Sodergren who always played their hearts out whenever they took the ice. Steve Kent, "The Dent," was relentless holding the blue line; he was a wrecking ball. Andrew "Never" Fales was like a brick wall the second half of the season keeping us in every game. For all the returning players, remember it's on you to take the reins. So, good luck and God-speed. On three, "Boot Straps!"

Girls Hockey

CAPTAINS WORDS

When our blades touched the ice for the first time this holiday season, no one really knew what to expect. We had an extremely successful season last year, but between injuries, illnesses, and a brand new coach, it seemed as though anything could happen. But as usual, nothing could stop us once the puck was dropped. The parents cheered, the coaches directed, the players bickered and laughed, and so began another year of Stoneham Girl's Varsity Hockey. We ended up with four wins and a tie, not a bad record for a budding varsity team. We also had many goals and scoring opportunities from just about every member of the team and numerous saves from the goalies and defenders alike. Though the scoreboard didn't always show it, we really did have a very successful year. The standings, however, are not the only aspect of hockey. The camaraderie of the team itself has evolved so much over these past few years and came to an all-time high during this last season. No one was without a friend and the entire team remained united, no matter the score or the odds. Before each game, we had a decision to make: we could succumb to the intimidation of the big-name teams or we could play our hearts out and give them a fight to remember. Game after game, there seemed to be a trend. We decided that we would prefer to leave it all out on the ice rather than lie down and just take whatever was dealt. Our struggles made us stronger and created Stoneham Girl's Hockey, an experience that will never be forgotten with our old equipment in the basement.

MEMORIES

"The hotel lobby was elegant and immaculate, a strange gathering place for a bunch of high school students. But we weren't high school students that evening. We dressed to the nines, rode around in stretch limos, and ate dinner in a fancy ballroom with multiple forks. Colorful decorations were not needed; no balloons or crepe paper. The bright dresses and patterned ties lit up the entire room, glowing and shimmering throughout the night as we ate and danced. At the junior prom, we weren't children at a party. We were young adults enjoying the evening with good food, interesting music, and great friends."

- Liz Brenton

"My stupid locker got jammed between classes on my first day of freshman year. I was freaking out, twisting, kicking, nervous that I would get in trouble for being late, and everyone just walked right past me. As I was pounding on the metal, about to give up, this absolutely huge senior boy stopped and asked if he could help. I almost cried, I was so thankful. I told him my combination and he just shoved one shoulder into the locker and pulled it open, reminding me not to let my stuff get stuck in the door. It was awesome. Now I'm a senior, I still can't open my locker, and there's no one older than me to help out! Ah well! "

- Kelly Landers

"Coming to SHS in September of 2003 was quite interesting. Walking down those dimly lit corridors getting jostled around. Upperclassmen running around, yelling at us to move and stop clogging the hallways. Soon after, we figured out that "traffic" goes both ways and that we can use the "other door" instead of squeezing through one doorway. We were slapped around, pushed around, pushed aside, and put in our places. We were at the bottom of the totem pole.

The year is now 2007 - much has changed since our freshman year. Relationships were started, and some were ended. Friendships were destroyed, while others were forged. Acquaintances were made and life long friends were found. The good was taken with the bad and over four years we all grew mentally, physically, and emotionally. From scum of the school to top tier and all so quickly. There is no particular moment that pops to my mind when I think about SHS, but a collage of images, feelings, and voices."

- James Morgan

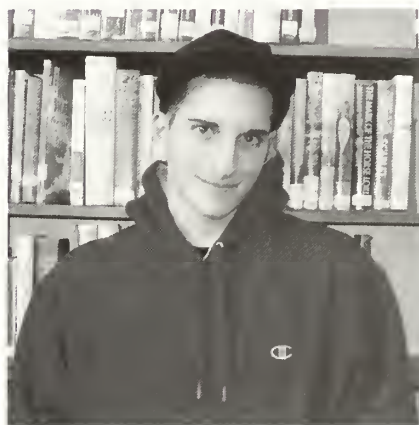

"One of my favorite memories was in my sophomore year. I was in Child Development and got to carry a crying baby doll for a few days. Waking up at random times in the night did not bother me and I had a lot of fun bringing "Evelynn" everywhere. The best adventure we had was to a Math Team competition. Nobody there knew it was a doll at first - they just saw me holding a baby carrier next to my boyfriend, who was helping me with the bags. I got a lot of stares that day, although not as many after I brought Evelynn out and they realized it was just a doll. Coming home, all anyone could talk about were the faces of the students from other schools. We had a lot of laughs and still do every now and then when we remember that day. It's a memory I'll always have."

- Mary Ames

"One of my fondest memories here at Stoneham High was during freshman year. Me and my friends would hang out outside the cafe during lunch and just relax and have a good time, things were simpler then. All of them later moved on and left Stoneham High but those memories still stick with us."

- Michael Caswell

"The one thing I will remember most about high school is the Spring 2006 Track season. It was like everything clicked and we were all performing really well. After a few league meets we were undefeated and excited about our record. Then one Saturday at 6:30 in the morning we headed to Milton to compete with over 25 other teams for the title of Division III State Relay Champions. After many different events and a long day at the track, we had done it -- we were the champions! We got back on the bus and had an amazing bus ride home. Then we went out to celebrate as a team. But our season wasn't over then, we still had a few more league meets left. We won every meet we had and finished the season undefeated Middlesex League Champions. The championships were great but what I'll remember most are the girls on the team and how we were always there for each other. Love you Senior Trackies!!!"

A MESSAGE FROM THE EDITORS TO THE CLASS OF 2007:

So, here it is. A culmination of our years here at SHS.
We had a blast working on this yearbook and we hope you enjoy every page!
Thank you so much for submitting memories and photographs...
they were greatly appreciated.

In twenty or thirty years, look back on this yearbook and remember your high school experience fondly. Remember the clubs you joined, the sports you played, and the proms you attended.
But most of all, remember the people who helped you shine.

FRIENDS, FAMILY, FUN -- WE LOVE YOU!

CALM EMBERS

Purple and greens, unnaturally remembering, the city's influence resonates ...

The fire glows and warms my face unmistakably natural ...

Like a metaphor of the past, the white heat docile at a distance, yet irresistably alluring, draws me in ...

It feels as though I am back where I want to be, like playing a piano as my fingers glide across the keys with ease ...

I come to this place, my slate wiped clean, my easel white and wanting, to redefine who I am ...

Unlike the everyday chaos and stress, the fire's calm embers take me to a place I have always longed to go ...

*Love,
Dad*

{Trends}

- ▶ Mid-calf and ankle-length leggings, last seen in the trendy 1980s, return to the spotlight. Fashion-conscious girls wear them under minis, dresses and tunics.

- ▶ Pointy toes and high heels are out. The feminine, flirty ballerina flat goes with everything from short skirts to long leggings and super-skinny jeans.

Bling bling

- ▶ Rapper fashion comes to the suburbs as snap-on grills add a flash of diamonds and gold or platinum to your pearly whites.

- ▶ Couture designers like Dolce & Gabbana and luxury brands like Swarovski, the Swiss crystal maker, transform boring cell phones into the year's must-have bling.

- ▶ Tiny plaid mini skirts look private-school cool. Meanwhile, Marc Jacobs is sending plaid tops down the runway and fashion icons sport Burberry plaids.

Favorite brands:

{Diesel}

- ▶ Nearly 31 percent of teens, or 7.6 million, are consuming energy drinks that contain up to four times the amount of caffeine than is in a can of Coke.

- ▶ The year's to-die-for, must-have-at-any-price jeans are dark, slim, distressed denims from Diesel, the Italian label that inspires a cult-like devotion among its customers.

- Due to the popularity of user-generated websites like MySpace and YouTube, TIME magazine's annual person of the year is "You."

- Jessica Simpson's divorce from Nick Lachey is finalized. Romantic rumors link her to skateboarder Bam Margera, NFL quarterback Tony Romo, singer John Mayer and comedian Dane Cook.

- Dynamic music legend James Brown, aka the Godfather of Soul, dies at the age of 73. He is remembered as one of the major musical influences of the past 50 years.

- Katie Couric is the anchor of the CBS Evening News, becoming the nation's first female solo anchor of a major television network's weekday evening newscast.

- Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie, also known as "Bradgelina," make headlines when Angelina gives birth to daughter Shiloh in the African nation of Namibia.
